

Dear Parent/Guardian

Award winning author Naomi Jones will be at Lipson Vale Primary on Thursday 8 June. Pupils from your school will enjoy reading and writing inspiration from How to Make a Story with their class and teachers as we celebrate stories together.

Naomi has loved stories for as long as she can remember and has always wanted to write books. She loves to travel and once spent a month living with Navajo Indians in America. She also enjoys reading, playing netball and practicing yoga. Naomi lives in Cornwall with her husband, the illustrator James Jones, their boys, a springer-spaniel and their black and white cat.

Children will have the opportunity to buy personally signed and dedicated copies of Naomi's latest book. Should you wish your child to be able to purchase books, they will need to bring money with them on the day. Of course, pupils are under no obligation to buy books but we do want to alert you to this opportunity in order to avoid disappointment. Often pupils are very inspired to read the author's book after such a visit and this is a unique opportunity for them to have books signed and personally dedicated.

What is a story made of? Milo is about to find out.

Milo wants to tell a story. There's just one problem – he's not sure where to start. With a little help from his family and his very big imagination, Milo's story is soon off to a flying start.

Filled with colourful illustrations by Ana Gomez we are able to sell the paperback for the very special price of ~~£7.99~~ £6.00 only for this event.

It's the perfect book to inspire future storytellers!

Research shows that author events in schools inspire children and help them on their journey to a love of reading. We hope your child will benefit greatly from this visit.
